Notes

- Score the Hello Honey card stock Then fold and crease for the card base.
- On the Big Shot platform (the Precision Plate is helpful for this die) open the card front and cover the right front of the card with the coordinating Designer Series Paper® Vellum. Place the vine border with the cutting side toward the edge and the stem end right at the fold of the card. Cover with a clear plate and cut both layers. Save the little card stock pieces. Snip the fold from the edge to the cut border.
- Adhere the Vellum to the right inside of the card. Use minimal adhesive. Plan to cover the adhesive spots with embellishments.
- Stamp the large greeting in Old Olive ink on the upper left corner of one of the 2¾" x 5¼" Whisper White pieces for the card front.
- Stamp "...on your special day" in the middle of the other piece for the inside.
- Stamp the flowers from Botanicals for You in Mint Macaron on the corners of the inside piece. Stamp the little leaves in Old Olive near the flowers.
- Adhere the white pieces to the front and inside of the card.
- Arrange all of the flowers and leaves from the Botanical Builder Framelits on the Big Shot. I like to place my dies cutting side up on the Precision Base Plate and my card stock on top to save cutting up my expensive plate. Cut them all at once. It's a good idea to run it through the Big Shot twice.
 - I have a layout guide if you need it.
- Stamp the veins in the leaves in Old Olive.
- Arrange all the flowers and leaves on card. Be sure to place something over the adhesive spots. Also be extra careful when gluing embellishments over the cut leaf border to avoid glue on the inside of your card.
 - When you forget (like I did), use the Adhesive Eraser on the dry adhesive and/or use the Embossing Buddy to cover up the stickiness.
- Add pearls to the flower centers.
- Stamp leaves and/or flowers on the envelope front.
- Cut the Designer Series Paper® with the largest Envelope Liner Framelit. Place adhesive just on the top curved edge and place in the envelope. Fold to crease.
