Notes:

1. Use the #2 Stitched Nested Die to cut four pieces from the 5 ½" x 8 ½" card stock.
2. Trim one of the pieces just a hair (actually, the thickness of the card stock) all the way around.
3. Score the strips at ½" from the bottom. Starting at the left end, align the point of the trimmed die piece and mark the strip where it turns the corner to start the long side. Turn the die piece and mark the next corner. Turn and mark at the point of the shape. Turn one more time to mark the end of the last section. Cut at that last mark. Use these marks to mark the second strip.
4. Trim the rectangle at the bottom left.
5. Stamp the swirl image in Gray Granite ink centered above the score line of the long section. Repeat on the other piece, if you'd like.
6. Put Tear & Tape Adhesive on the ½" side of the long score line, front and back. Put Tear & Tape Adhesive on the back side of the left end of each strip and also at the first score line. Trim a hair off the other end of the strips.
7. Adhere the two strips together to form a long loop. Fold to crease with at Bone Folder and also to cut a wedge from the ½" strip.
8. Remove the inside strip of Tear & Tape Adhesive backing from one long tab and place the trimmed Stitched Nested Die piece, matching the corners with the score lines. The "right side" will be on the inside of the box. Repeat with the opposite long side.
9. Adhere another die piece on the bottom of the box to cover the tabs.
10. Instead of carefully measuring where the creases should go for the top, just loosely wrap one 1 ¼" strip around the box bottom. Fold to mark the corners for 4 sides, starting with the single ply end piece and having the ½" scored line at the top. Trim the piece at the end of the 4th section. Trim the second strip to match. Remove the rectangles in the corners, then adhere them at just one end. Wrap all the way around the box bottom and adjust the fit, if needed. It should be snug, but still loose enough to slip off. Use the Bone Folder to crease the corners. Add Tear & Tape Adhesive to both sides on the ½" side. Wedge at the creases to form tabs. I think it's easier to but the piece over the box and put the top die cut piece on first, again starting at one long side and then the other.

11. To make the magnolia for the top, stamp the large image in Gray Granite ink on the Thick Whisper White card stock. Color it with the Stampin' Blends™. Then cut out the two each of the three petal dies and the two flower centers. Color them with the Stampin' Blends™ as well.
12. Give the petals and leaves a slight curl with the Bone Folder and really curl and crumple the flower centers. Adhere them on top of the box.
