Notes:

- Score the Bumblebee card stock at 4 ¼". Fold and crease for the card base.
- Stamp Thank you for all that you are in Crumb Cake ink about 3/8" up from the bottom of the 5" x 3 ¾" Whisper White card stock.
- Stamp and every thoughtful thing you do in Crumb Cake ink in the middle of the 5 ¼" x 4" Whisper White card stock. Adhere this layer to the inside of the card with adhesive of your choice.
- Use the Stamparatus to stamp the flowers. I used the one with the roses.
 - Temporarily place the 5" x 3 ¾" vertically with the bottom left corner at the bottom left of the inch with the Stampin' Up! Logo.
 - With a sheet of the Small Grid Paper on the Stamparatus, position the stamp on the grid paper so it is about 1" above the greeting and centered on the card.
 - Put the plate two steps down the hinges. Remove the Whisper White card stock and place the scrap or sticky note where it will be stamped. Ink the stamp and stamp the scrap. Cut out. It's best to cut just inside the lines. This will be your mask.
 - Place the card stock back into position. Ink and stamp the center flowers.
 - Move the plate up two steps. Place the mask over the first image. Ink and stamp.
 - Move the plate down 4 steps. Leave the mask in place. Ink and stamp.
 - Color as desired.
- Lace the ribbon into the slide. Adhere just under the row of flowers. I usually just adhere the ends on the back side.
- Adhere to the Crumb Cake layer.
- Adhere to the card front.
- Adhere the corners with Multipurpose Liquid Glue. Allow to dry.
