Notes:

1. Score the Basic White card stock at 4 ¼". Fold and crease.
2. Use the largest Layering Diorama Die to cut the card base.
3. Stamp the greeting in Poppy Parade ink on the very top of the card base.
4. Adhere the 4" x 5 ¼" Designer Series Paper with the little red mushrooms onto the Poppy Parade base.
5. Adhere the Basic White card base over the Designer Series Paper.
6. Cut a large mushroom and adhere it to the bottom left of the card base.
7. Cut the beard, hat, and nose from the Basic White card stock. Cut the feet from the 1" x 2" Early Espresso. Cut a nose/oval from the end of the 1" x 1" Early Espresso. Also cut a hat from the Balmy Blue knit Designer Series Paper.
8. Color the Basic White nose/oval with the skin color of your choice.
9. Adhere the knit Designer Series Paper hat over the Basic White hat.
10. Adhere the nose on the beard. Adhere the hat just on the edges of the beard. The placement is shown with embossing lines.
11. Adhere the boots to the bottom of the 1" x 1" with the hole in it. Trim, as needed.

12. Place the boot assembly at the bottom right corner of the card front. Place the hat and beard assembly over the boots to check for positioning. Remove the beard assembly. Add a Mini Stampin' Dimensional in the hole. The Stampin' Dimensionals should not stick to the feet assembly at all. Pull the boots down as far as they will go. Remove the backing.
13. Put Stampin' Dimensionals at the top of the Gnome's hat and bottom of the hat, but not on the beard area. Remove the backing. Adhere the Gnome over the boots. The feet will swing freely but will be held in place by the beard.
14. Add a Fine Sparkle Gem to the top of the hat.

Note: I got the inspiration for this dancing Gnome from Susan Campfield who got the assembly idea from Connie Ingram. They used a die from the Candy Cane Dies, but I made the same piece with the oval from the Gnome Dies.
